EDITED BY ANGELA MASON

win an 'In the Pink' stay at the new Sofitel St James in Pall Mall, London: Saturday night for two in an executive suite, with English breakfast and full afternoon tea in the hotel's swooningly fabulous cream and pink Rose Lounge (we like it as flower-filled relief from heavy leather club-land hotels). The lounge's library has books on the history of the English rose. Drop by for a browse with Albert Roux pastries on Bernardaud porcelain, or later for a glass of pink fizz. Sofitel St James, 6 Waterloo Place, London SW1, tel: 020 7747 2200 (www.sofitel.com). To enter, call 0900 145 6126*

win a bottle of flower-powered Seriously...pinky vodka (as seen behind the bar in the coolest drinking spots). The fruit-and-herb-flavoured spirit works as a natural base for delicate sugarless cocktails – the antithesis of an E-coloured alcopop. Try it well-splashed with soda water, over ice cubes imprisoning fresh rose petals, with a twist of lemon peel floating atop. Priced £20 a bottle from Harvey Nichols wine shop, tel: 020 7201 8537. For more information, visit www.seriously.com. We have 20 bottles to give away. To enter, call 0900 145 6129*

win a year's subscription to Donna Hay's food and lifestyle magazine, the perfect expression of antipodean simplicity – the Aussies seem to be leading the way to enjoyment of the moment without days of tense advance preparations or sending in a commando team of stylists. Check out the magazine on www.donnahay.com.au. We have ten subscriptions to give away. To enter, call 0900 145 6127*

donna hay win a year's supply of pink champagne worth more than £1,500. Diamond, the direct insurer specialising in car insurance for women, is offering one lucky winner 12 cases of Lanson Rosé Label, six bottles to a case (by our count that's a lot of candlelit, rose-scented baths with cold glass in hand after the winner drives home from work!). More info about insurance at www.diamond.co.uk; tel: 0800 362436. To enter, call 0900 145 6128*

Tickle your fancy

We're fascinated by what Asda will be offering for their annual Ticked Pink fortnight (starts tomorrow). This year among the pink items: healthy choice seafood sauce, pink tagliatelle and marshmallows – possibly rung up by a checkout girl with pink hair. (Asda staff put a lot of wild thought into their pink stunts, the event being the biggest fundraiser for Breast Cancer Care – £2 million so far, and Asda is hoping to get that up to £2.5 million). For more information, pink recipes, etc, see the Ticked Pink pages on www.asda.co.uk

win a gorgeous Fortnum & Mason box of edible pinkness, worth £250. Imagine what paradise isle you could provision for with pink fizz and wine, trout mousse, smoked salmon, rose-petal jelly (try it swirled into yoghurt for breakfast), peaches with cranberries, Swiss chocolate and many more savoury and sweet goodies. Probably you could sail away to those charming fantasy locations painted on the walls of Fortnum's Fountain – we've always wanted to holiday there. For more information about hampers and the store, visit www.fortnumandmason.co.uk. To enter, call 0900 145 6130* win For a chance to win more pink champers with private internet club membership, fabulous Aussie wine, PLUS dinner, with pink aperitif, a movie, and a stay in a pink-themed room at one of our favourite London boutique hotels, turn to page 67.
